Schreckengost Teaching Award
(Last updated May 2014)

The Schreckengost award was established by President David Deming in 2000 to recognize teaching among the CIA faculty and was named in honor of Viktor Schreckengost, the late artist and industrial designer who was a 1929 graduate of the Institute and who taught at CIA for nearly 70 years.

Viktor Schreckengost was the first recipient of the award, which is presented annually to current and/or former faculty members in recognition of teaching excellence at the Institute over a period of at least 10 years. Nominations are solicited from faculty, former faculty, alumni, students, and friends of CIA.
